

Josh Doubtfire

I have lived in Freemans Bay, Auckland ever since 2004 and have attended all local schools, including Western Springs College, where I sat on the Board of Trustees as a student representative.

For the last seven years, I trained in public speaking completing my Trinity College of London Communications Diploma this year. I have helped campaign in the 2017 general elections and have a keen interest in politics.

I am an ocean swimmer, enjoying the Auckland beaches in the summer and spend time on Waiheke Island with my family who are very important to me.
