“As a rangatahi who is a part of both the Pacific and Māori community, I would like to uplift the voices of those who hardly have a say and be an advocate for mental health, environmental issues, gang affiliated issues, and youth disengagement. As someone who understands both the beauty and struggles of our area, I’m ready to step up and represent the heart of South Auckland. Youth Parliament is a powerful platform, and I’d use it to spotlight our stories, struggles, and strengths.”
