

Haemish Hollings

“I applied to be a Youth MP because I am passionate about advocacy for renewable energy, particularly nuclear energy. As New Zealand faces growing energy demands and climate change, I believe nuclear technologies should be considered as a low-emission, reliable complement to our renewable energy sources. We need to change our stance on this issue, so we are ready to onboard this technology when it becomes available. I have strong ties to Auckland Central and Epsom and am committed to representing the concerns of young people in my community, who don’t often have opportunities to voice their concerns. Mental health advocacy is also important to me, as I have worked on initiatives supporting students in my school. Through Youth Parliament 2025, I aim to represent my community on issues that matter to our generation and contribute meaningfully to creating a future for our country that youth want to see.”
