“Ko Te Aho Matua te tāhuhu o tōku whare! Being a rakatahi Māori in the bottom of Te Waipounamu, statistically speaking, rakatahi in this region face a higher rate of disadvantage than the national average. Seeing my own hāpori stuck in a drought is deeply disheartening. I applied to be a Youth MP with the spirit of my tīpuna on my shoulders, and my hāpori behind me, hoping to help contribute to the change that is needed in my community. I am an advocate for Indigenous rights, and I hope to one day be an inspiration for fellow rakatahi Māori. "Mō tātou, ā, mō kā uri a muri ake nei".”
