

Jermaine Del Mundo

“I believe today's youth need stronger voices that advocate for accountability, common sense, and reason. Many young people often get lost in emotion-driven opinions, making uninformed decisions and having no personal accountability. I believe it’s important to challenge that culture by encouraging reason and logical thinking. I would like to be able to be a voice for my community and for youth who feel their voices aren't being heard. I also have a keen interest in politics. I am ready to step out of my comfort zone and challenge myself.”
