

Sophie Blacklock

“I applied for the position of Youth MP as I felt it was a valuable opportunity to serve my electorate and give back to a community that I have grown up in. I'm interested in understanding and representing the young people of Ōhāriu and their interests on a political stage, so I believe this will be a good avenue to do so. I've had an interest in politics and humanities since I was young, and I am looking forward to using my skills and knowledge to contribute productively to Youth Parliament and represent Ōhāriu well.”
