“I want to be a Youth MP because I am passionate about the most severe issues New Zealand is facing today such as cost of living and educational achievement metrics. I think this is a great opportunity to represent my community and voice out their concerns at a national level. Personally, I have a proven record of effective representation at my school with four years of being on the student council and this year I am the head of student council which gives me unique insights into both management and governance of my school, and this is the next step forward for change and reform through planned and effective action.”
