“I applied to be a Youth Press Gallery Member because I see it as a valuable stepping stone in my journey towards driving meaningful change. Growing up in Aotearoa with an immigrant background, I’ve always felt immense gratitude for the opportunities I’ve had and a strong sense of commitment to give back. Over time, I developed the confidence to speak up about issues that matter, and I now hope to use that voice to elevate underrepresented perspectives and raise awareness about the challenges we face. I believe in the power of journalism and media to inform, challenge, and inspire action. The Youth Press Gallery is an opportunity to further that passion and contribute to making politics more engaging and accessible for all .”
